

SOLICITOR FORCES REVOLUTION OF BUNCO LETTER; BRANDS WOODWARD CHARACTERS AS "INFAMOUS LIE"

Five Suspects Held in Wall Street Bomb Case

TAKEN FROM SHIP, MEN ARE JAILED IN NEW ORLEANS

Located by Justice Department Agents on Board Steamer at Sea and Put in Irons.

FIERCE FIGHT STAGED BY DESPERATE GANG

After Repeated Struggles, Prisoners Are Met by Police and Are Now Held Incommunicado.

New Orleans, March 22.—Five men, shackled hand and foot and guarded by armed policemen, are under arrest here pending their transportation to New York, where they are wanted in connection with the Wall Street bomb explosion of September 16, which cost two score lives and millions of dollars in damage to property in the heart of the financial section.

The men call themselves Russian Poles and Germans. They have been sought throughout the United States and abroad by agents of the department of justice, who finally located their quarry on board the U. S. shipping boat steamer, City of Alton, near Rio de Janeiro.

Taken to that port in iron, they were transferred to the shipping board vessel Rushville, and brought to New Orleans.

The men put up a terrific fight for liberty upon their arrest, but were finally overpowered and put into confinement by the ship's officers. At Rio they were put in prison to await transportation to New York.

S. S. Yoro Reluctant Men.

Another bitter fight on the steamer Yoro, of the Munson line, occurred when the men were transferred to that liner from the Rio prison, and not daring to accept the dangerous cargo, the steamer turned them back again to the consular officials, who slapped them into jail a second time.

American Vice-Consul Thomas finally prevailed upon the Rushville, then loading coffee, to take the men aboard. Seven policemen escorted them, weighted down by handcuffs and chains, to the vessel, and remained on board until they had been safely confined. Members of the crew declared that during the trip to New Orleans the five were regarded as particularly dangerous, and a constant watch was maintained over their movements.

Shackled to Jail.

During the trip north, a quarrel broke out among the prisoners, and the officers had difficulty in preventing bloodshed.

At New Orleans a strong force of police met the boat and dragged the men in darkness over the rail, rushing them to jail through a little group of curious bystanders who wondered what it was all about.

Pamphlets, photographs, atlases and maps, including one of the canal zone, are said to have been found in the prisoners' effects.

Their names, as put down on the register of the Parish prison are: Philip Bender, alias "Chief" Bender; Lionel Kuobrozoff, Rudolph Dorsch, Hans Rindin, and Henrik Lipan. The last three are said to be from New York. One of them, Rindin, is said to have lived in South street, New York, and is an outlier by occupation.

RECORDS SHOW "REVOLUTION" CHARGE.

New York, March 22.—Shipping board records here show that the five men brought into New Orleans today on the steamer Rushville and alleged to be under investigation in connection with the Wall Street explosion, were charged with starting a "revolution" aboard the steamer City of Alton last February. The records contained no allegations that they had a hand in last September's disaster.

According to shipping board officials, the quietest trip to organize a "soviet" on the City of Alton when they sailed from here for South America on last October. The uprising, alleged to have occurred in February, was put down by loyal members of the crew.

Ordered Tied.

When the ship reached Rio de Janeiro the "revolutionists" were arrested by Brazilian police and taken before the American consul, who tried them and ordered them back to the United States. They were ordered placed on the Rushville, but as she was a passenger ship, they were placed on the Rushville.

Local headquarters of the department of justice was instructed to say nothing, as Chief Flynn, of the bureau of investigation, who now is in Washington, would do any talking that was to be done.

Five men were shipped here last October for South America on the City of Alton, four put themselves down as Russian and one as Philip Bender, gave no nationality.

Grover Bergdoll Witness at Trial Of Two Americans

Deserter Describes Attempt to Arrest Him in German Territory.

Mosbach, Baden, March 22.—Grover C. Bergdoll, deserter from the American army, took the stand today in the trial of Carl Neuf and Franz Zimmer, the two Americans who, with the aid of four Germans, attempted to arrest Bergdoll at Eberbach last January. Bergdoll testified that Zimmer leaped against the automobile and pointed a revolver at him. Neuf, he further testified, aimed his revolver at him and fired, the first bullet hitting a young woman in the back and the second entering one of the tires.

Zimmer denied having drawn a weapon; he said if he had he would have fired.

Neuf made a long statement, detailing the nature of his activities as a deserter for the American military forces at Coblenz. He asserted that he had succeeded, with the aid of German authorities, in apprehending numerous American deserters in various sections of Germany. He had been on Bergdoll's trail for a long time, and he said he had sought a German police officer at Eberbach to assist him in his American passport in order to avoid complications at Eberbach. He had sought to kidnap the American slacker in order to forestall escape at Stuttgart, as Neuf believed that the German police at Eberbach were disinclined to assist him, despite the fact that the police authorities at Coblenz had given him credentials which he understood entitled him to operate in unoccupied parts of Germany.

Two German police officials from Coblenz testified that the American deserters were frequently called on to co-operate with the American military authorities, and that Neuf had often made trips into unoccupied sections of Germany with their knowledge and consent, in order to assist American fugitives from justice.

The German police officials who worked with Neuf spoke in commendatory terms of the American deserter.

Six representatives of the American forces in Coblenz are in attendance on the trial, for which thirty witnesses have been summoned.

LEGION PROTESTS BERGDOLL FREEDOM.

Washington, March 22.—Request that the war department take "prompt and decisive" steps to secure the return of Grover C. Bergdoll, deserter from the American army, was made today by the American legion's legislative committee in a letter to Secretary Weeks, made public today by the committee.

The letter, which was sent at the direction of Commander Galtbraith and the legion's executive committee, also requests the new administration to secure the release from a German jail of the two American army sergeants, Zimmer and Neuf, who were arrested when they attempted to capture Bergdoll on German soil.

"The Bergdoll case as it now stands," the letter says, "is a disgrace to the government of the United States and a cruel and undignified insult to the American men who served America in the world war. While Bergdoll, army deserter and criminal refugee, speeds at will over the roads of Germany in a high-powered automobile, the American boys who are this very day on trial before a German court because, single-handed and alone, they attempted to bring Bergdoll to the justice he so richly deserves."

MRS. SHELDON IS DEAD

She Served "Overseas" With Red Cross During War.

Mrs. J. D. Sheldon, a popular and well-known young Atlanta woman, died Tuesday morning at a local hospital following a brief illness. Before her marriage two months ago Mrs. Sheldon was Miss Gertrude Guerard. During the world war she served overseas in a responsible position with the Red Cross.

SOVIET REPORTED IN APPEAL TO U. S. TO RESUME TRADE

Wireless Message to London From Moscow Proposes Sending of Delegation to Washington.

REPORT UNCONFIRMED BY OFFICIALS HERE

London, March 22.—The Russian soviet government has appealed to President Harding and the American government to resume trade relations with Russia, says a wireless message from Moscow today.

The soviet government proposes to send a delegation to the United States to negotiate a trade agreement, the message adds. The appeal, which is made by the all-Russian central executive committee, suggests that negotiations be started immediately for the resumption of trade. It asserts that there has been a long existing hope for friendly relations with "the great northern republic" refers to the "hostility of the democratic administration" trusts that a present government will "appreciate the great advantages which would ensue to both republics by the resumption of trade relations," and declares that it is to the interests of both nations to remove the wall which now separates the two countries.

When many other states have concluded treaties with Russia, the absence of normal relations with the United States, the appeal says, appears as a "strange phenomenon."

CONFIRMATION LACKING.

Washington, March 22.—Official confirmation was lacking here tonight of information contained in New wireless advice received in London, announcing that the Russian soviet government had appealed to President Harding to resume trade relations with Russia.

Responsible officials refrained from discussing the situation specifically today, and the most definite indication of the administration's attitude on the question remained in the statement of Secretary Weeks, who said that the government was not in a position to make any statement on the subject of the resumption of trade with Russia as essentially a political matter taken into consideration, and advancing the belief that any considerable trade with Russia at this time would be impossible.

The possibility of resuming trade relations with the soviet government, the conclusion of formal peace, and the state department any outstanding claims of the Russian government toward what is called capitalism.

"Indeed," he said, "some of Lenin's speeches might very well have been delivered by Mr. Churchill himself."

The Russian soviet premier was beginning to realize that trade was essential; that locomotives cannot be patched up with theories, and that the original soviet theories are unworkable, said Mr. Lloyd-George.

The agreement, he continued, was merely a trade agreement recognizing the de facto government of Russia, not a treaty of peace. Claims against Russia with respect to loans or for injuries to nationals had been reserved for discussion, when there would be a general settlement. In all these claims were amply safeguarded.

He ridiculed the idea that the trade of commodities was a mere agreement and asserted that every prediction about bolshevism coming to an end was a prediction of disaster. The bolsheviks were in as complete control in vast Russia as any government could be under present circumstances.

Note Upon Bridge Contains Warning Of Mothers-In-Law

Columbus, Ga., March 22.—"I want to give warning to young men about to get married, never to let your mother-in-law or any other relations live with you," were among the things contained in a note found this morning by people coming to work, along with a man's coat and hat which were lying on the Fourteenth street bridge.

Ice and Milk Wagons In New York Accused Of Peddling Whisky

New York, March 22.—Thousands of push-cart ice peddlers and milk wagon drivers, astute in sensing trade for spirituous stimulants among their household customers, have developed this potential bootleg market into wholesale proportions, federal prohibition enforcement agents revealed here today.

Most of the push-cart ice men, they say, have headquarters in apartment house basements. By a simple working agreement, their unseen customers along the dumb waiter shafts are able to make known their real wants simply by answering "yes" or "no" to the ice man's call of "ice?" with a rising intonation.

Milk wagon drivers operate somewhat differently, the enforcement agents said. They either carry hip flasks, which are sold while on their rounds, or else deliver liquor in opaque containers.

PERMISSION GIVEN U. S. TO INTERVENE IN A. B. & A. CASE

Government Takes Hand in Order to Defend Constitutionality of the Newlands Act.

ATTEMPT TO WRECK TRAIN NO. 4 CHARGED

Intervention on behalf of the government in defense of the constitutionality of the Newlands act, as it applied to railroads under receivership, was permitted by an order of Judge Samuel H. Sibley Tuesday afternoon in the hearing now before the federal court of a petition filed by the employees requesting the court to revoke an order previously passed cutting the wages of the union workmen and others on the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railway by 50 per cent of increases granted since 1917.

This was the most important development of the day in connection with the A. B. & A. situation, other items of interest being an alleged attempt on the part of some one to wreck passenger train No. 4 Monday night, which the railroad officials attribute to vandals tampering with a switch in Coffee county, near Douglas, which caused the derailling of the engine. This wreck, which did not hurt anyone, but which might have been a disaster but for the limited speed of the train, was said by the officials of the A. B. & A. to have been a deliberate attempt to wreck the train.

Investigation Started.

The officers of Coffee county have begun an investigation, putting blood hounds upon the trail of the wreckers, Tuesday afternoon, in the hope that they might be captured. The hounds followed a trail from the scene of the wreck to the Dixie highway, close by, it was stated in a message from Douglas, and it became apparent that those taking part in the wreck were attempting the same, by automobile.

Another development of interest was a statement from General Chairman W. M. Martin, of the engineers, at Fitzgerald, who said that the striking employees of the A. B. & A. could have had no part in the attempted wrecking of passenger train No. 4 Tuesday morning.

In a reply to Colonel Bugz, Val Fitzpatrick and J. B. Hogges, representing the fourteen brotherhoods, declared that the receiver had been working for the purpose of the A. B. & A. railway in open court last Saturday and that he had replied that the road was being operated in a safe and proper manner.

It also charged that in giving out the statement that the receiver was acting in "keeping with other acts of Colonel Bugz, who, in defiance of law and orderly procedure, arbitrarily fixed wages without conceding the right of the employees to have a say in the matter."

The men declare that the wreck might have been caused by the poor condition of the track, and an insufficient force to keep it in repair. The statement follows:

"The statement of Colonel Bugz appearing in the press today giving an account of the derailling of train No. 4 is made in such a way as to leave the impression that sympathizers or strikers had tampered with the track, and that the receiver was acting in 'keeping with other acts of Colonel Bugz, who, in defiance of law and orderly procedure, arbitrarily fixed wages without conceding the right of the employees to have a say in the matter.'"

Reads Union Bulletin.

General Atterbury introduced a union bulletin which informed shop men that the government would be "no leniency provisions for or positions provided for * * * any other than employees and members of the organizations affiliated with the railway employees' department" of the American Federation of Labor.

The bulletin was a direct attempt, General Atterbury asserted, to force non-union men to join the union under fear of losing their seniority rights.

A closed shop, either union or non-union, was denounced by the general, who said a worker should have the right to be or not to be a union man.

Allegations against the Pennsylvania railroad operation, brought up by Mr. Walsh, who read a copy of a letter purported to have been written by I. W. Geer, general manager of the Pennsylvania, in which he charged that the railroad had been "even to defame all of labor organizations if necessary" to obtain more control in the hands of the railroad.

Dorothea's Romance

Chapter VI. A Walk in the Woods.

I was getting worried. What had happened to Dorothea? After vainly coaxing me to go for "a real tramp" out in the woods, she had started off alone, saying that it was too nice to stay indoors. But it was almost dark when she came back, and she was all alone. Dorothea had not returned! "Could she have gotten lost, or anything happened to her?" I wondered. I walked restlessly to the window again—only to see—Dorothea calmly strolling down the street with Jimmy Kimball!

"Dorothea Wayne," I said sternly, "where have you been? I thought you were lost or run over or something dreadful! And here you are calmly walking in, as unconcerned as if it were nothing. Jimmy, stay to dinner. I'm late and your sister won't be expecting you." Jim after a feeble remonstrance grinned boyishly and accepted.

A few minutes later, Dorothea gave a last pat to her hair and surveyed herself in the mirror. "What a charming reflection," I thought. Dorothea is a beautiful girl—but her greatest charm is her lovely complexion—so soft and pink and free from tan or roughness. "It's just because I use Magnolia Balm," Dorothea said, when I told her how pretty she looked. "Magnolia Balm is a wonderful liquid powder and lotion combined. It comes in pink, white, and rose-red and it's so easy and refreshing to use. I just wouldn't be without it." And it's only 25c a bottle. Almost all the drug stores carry Magnolia Balm, or you can send direct to the Lyon Mfg. Co. (45 S. Fifth St., Brooklyn, N. Y.).

Jimmy Kimball has more than just a friendly interest in Dorothea—I'm sure of that! And I'm glad—for I'm devoted to them both. (adv.)

Boyd did not take steps to prosecute the gang when he (Garrison) told of their operations, and that Ewing was a frequent visitor to the Sana Sana hotel.

The letter also said to charge that Boyd was supported for the office of solicitor by members of the syndicate, that votes were cast for him by men just out of the chain-gang, and that Boyd knew of these illegal votes being cast. The letter also implicated Chess Lagomarsino, clear store proprietor; Bert Donaldson and Fred Cooper, described as ex-convicts and dope fiends.

DICE GAME ARGUMENT.

On one occasion, says the letter, according to those who have seen it, Floyd Woodward became involved in an argument with a young man named Colledge, a money-lender named Isaac, and Miller, a prize fight promoter, over a dice game in which Miller lost money and became indignant, threatening to have Woodward prosecuted for the operation of the game.

Ewing, then an investigator in Boyd's office, the letter is said to continue, advised Woodward about the matter, and told him to go to Boyd and give him the money because he did not want to be arrested with the money on him. Then, it is charged, Woodward went to Boyd's office, gave the money to Hughes Roberts and Robert, and told them to keep it for him. Woodward, the letter continues, saw Boyd the next day and Boyd advised him not to give up the money and to suggest to Miller that they swear out warrants against each other. Then, it is said, Woodward received a $100 fee from Woodward for the game.

SAYS BOYD GOT MONEY.

It was also charged in the letter, according to the reports, that Boyd accepted large sums of money from this gang for his campaign expenses. In this connection it was alleged:

"That in the spring of 1919 Woodward offered Mr. Boyd two $100 bills in the lobby of the Kimball house, put twenty $100 bills in the hands of Boyd, and told him to keep them. Boyd refused to take them, saying, 'Why such large bills?' That Woodward realized he had made a mistake and made an engagement to see Boyd the next day; that Woodward, before the day, put twenty $100 bills in the folds of a newspaper; that he walked up the steps of the Kimball house with Boyd's refusal; that Woodward and telling him what was in it; that Boyd accepted it. The letter is also said to say that Woodward had been in the Kimball house in April, 1919, and suggested that Boyd's bank account at that time may show such deposits.

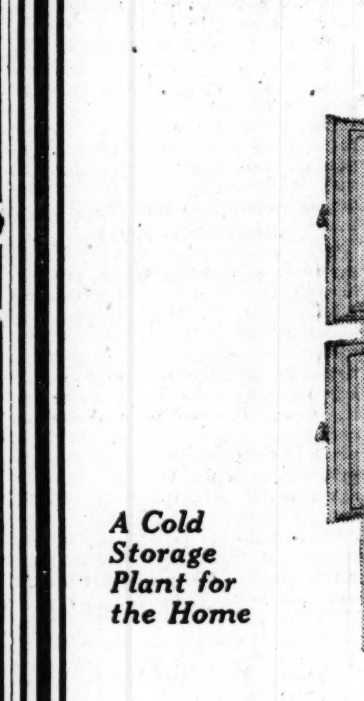

The letter is also said to allege that Boyd's bank account at that time may show such deposits.

BOOD COMMISSION WILL CO-OPERATE

Will Work Hand in Hand With City Council and Board of Education for Better Atlanta.

Co-operation with city council and with the board of education formed the keynote at a meeting of the bond commission which was held Tuesday morning in the office of Mayor Key at city hall.

The first official contact between the bond commission and the board of education will take place Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when the school committee of the commission will meet with the board in a preliminary discussion of plans to spend the $4,000,000 apportioned to schools.

The schools and other important committees were appointed Tuesday by T. C. Erwin, chairman of the commission.

Following is the list of the committees:

Schools—Frank Inman, chairman; Judge J. S. Candier, vice chairman; Major R. J. Guinn, I. N. Ragdale, W. C. Caraway, Miss Laura M. Smith and Mrs. G. B. Turman.

Waterworks—Lee Ashcraft, chairman; Frank Inman, vice chairman; Dr. W. B. Chandler, Mrs. Samuel Lusk.

Viaduct—Walter G. Cooper, chairman; Major R. J. Guinn, vice chairman; J. O. Hargis, George A. Gresham, Lee Ashcraft.

Finance—Judge John S. Candier, chairman; George R. Donovan, Lee Ashcraft.

Internal Management.

Internal management of the schools is something with which the bond commission will not assume to interfere, said Mr. Erwin, but will stick to its duty, which is to advise how the money may be spent most economically.

In a statement to the commission he urged every member to measure fully up to the responsibility involved in the discharge of the obligation imposed through service on the commission.

"When I accepted the chairmanship of your committee at our organization meeting on the 14th instant, I felt and still feel that a great mistake was made. Nothing could have persuaded me to do it but a sense of duty and the solemn obligation I assumed when I accepted the mayor's appointment. I assume that no member of the commission would have volunteered for a service involving such responsibility. We have been appointed, or drafted, I might say, not only by his honor, the mayor, but by practically the whole people of Atlanta, to administer a trust involving the expenditure of a colossal sum of money. To my mind, no body of men and women has ever been more signally honored or accorded a higher vote of confidence.

"I am sure I voice the sentiment of every member of the commission when I pledge to the people of Atlanta the best that is in us in carrying forward the work to a successful conclusion, and to show them that their confidence was not misplaced. Let us see that every dollar of this money is spent for the various uses for which it was authorized. There is to be no remuneration, no expense of campaign, nor overhauling of any kind whatever.

Patience Is Urged.

Ladies and gentlemen, we enter upon our duties with a full sense of the responsibility, time and labor it involves. While we shall naturally meet with many difficulties and trials it is well to remember that no great undertaking for the general good of a community has ever been accomplished without strenuous opposition from some source, accompanied by the usual amount of criticism and abuse. Many times I am afraid our patience will be sorely tried, but let it be understood that there is to be no temporizing, compromising or trading, and above all no resignations. A trust is sacred and inviolate. You cannot resign. "I feel it but fail to state that in my opinion, we shall have nothing to expect but the fairest treatment and a whole-hearted, helpful spirit of co-operation from the general council and the school board. They, of all men, should know and appreciate the enormous detail and trials of our undertaking.

"In appointing the various committees for this work, I thought it advisable to make some larger than others, and on account of what I believe to be their peculiar fitness, experience, or ability, have imposed a double task on several. I have given the subject a great deal of thought and hope and feel that I will have your full co-operation."

WILSON'S Certified HAMS

SMALL SIZES 36½c PER POUND

As a Service We Will Slice Half of the Ham

Miss Daisy A. Allen, 250 Foreman Street, gets the Wilson's "Certified" Ham for the best letter on buying a Whole Certified Ham.

The holders of coupons Nos. 286 and 121 have also been awarded a ham each, and are invited to call at our ham counter.

MISS ALLEN'S LETTER:

"In the first place it denotes Thrift and Economy to have a Whole Wilson's Certified Ham in the pantry. As for the ham itself, it retains its flavor much better and does not dry out as ham does when purchased in smaller quantities. But when you expect company comes in, there's a note of real pleasure and a smile of comfort and ease from the lady of the house when 'Jim' insists on them remaining for dinner, and the wife's 'Yes, you must' is sincere. Indeed, as she pictures a two-inch slice through the center of that delicious 'Certified' quality of Red Gravy Ham baked with cloves, and when the odor begins to float through the house, everyone has an extra appetite and can do justice to such a dish.

"There's a dozen 'Whys' and 'Beausies' in buying a whole ham instead of each time just buying enough for that one need. It can be sliced and fried at a minute's notice, or half of it boiled and kept cold in the refrigerator for Sunday Night supper, or sliced for sandwiches and lunches. Every bit is used in various ways down to the hock, and then it can be boiled in with cabbage or turnip salad and the bits of lean sliced over the top of the dish when served.

"To have a 'Certified' Ham Dinner waiting at home is enough to make anyone leave their favorite movie star in the last row of a good picture and throw the old machine into 'high' so as not to be late for dinner.

"There's a shadow of sadness in the wife's eyes when the last bit of 'Wilson's Certified Ham' is gone, because everybody likes the 'Certified Brands'."

This Week We Want a Recipe For Baking a Wilson Certified Ham

And to the lady who submits the best recipe not later than Saturday Night of this week, we will award a Wilson Skinned Certified Ham.

ALLEGED BUNCO VICTIM ASSAILS JOHN BOYKIN

Collusion Between Gang and Joseph O. Ewing Charged
by M. E. Garrison.

Sensational charges in regard to operations of the gambling syndicate in Atlanta, implicating Solicitor John A. Boykin by charging that he did not follow up clues for prosecution, and charging collusion between the gang and Attorney Joseph O. Ewing, were made in the affidavit of M. E. Garrison, former drug store proprietor, made public by Lamar Poole, chief of detectives, Tuesday.

The affidavit tells how the bunco men fleeced Garrison and charges that his revelations to the solicitor resulted only in his referring him to Attorney Philip Welner, who subsequently referred Garrison to Mr. Ewing.

The affidavit follows:

Garrison's Affidavit.
Before me, an officer of said state duly authorized by the laws thereof to administer oaths, personally came M. E. Garrison, who being duly sworn, deposes and says as follows:

Deponent says that during the months of February and March, 1920, he was engaged in business in the city of Atlanta; that he visited the place known as Shot Marks' place at No. 24 Houston street, in the city of Atlanta, and what was known as the Sans Souci hotel, at both of which places gambling was at that time being carried on in the absence of dice tables and other machines of gambling, including books on horse races, baseball, etc.

During the course of these two months, deponent lost approximately $3,350 at No. 24 Houston street, and approximately $800 at the Sans Souci hotel, operated by J. C. McBride and Floyd Woodward, said losses occurring within a space of less than sixty days, and upon various dates, continuously and successively.

During this time, and afterwards, deponent called upon Hon. John A. Boykin, solicitor general of the superior court of the Atlanta circuit, and reported to him said losses. Deponent made three or four visits to Mr. Boykin's office, in the courthouse, and asked Mr. Boykin to take action to prosecute the proprietors of both of said places, telling him in detail the facts and circumstances under which his losses occurred, and proposed to Mr. Boykin to take two of his men and introduce them into the houses, without the parties operating the same having knowledge of their being officers, in order that said officers might gain information as to the faces and manner of operation and the people participating in the gambling and the parties operating the same, both at Marks' place on Houston street and the McBride-Woodward place at the Sans Souci hotel on Conover street.

Could Not Afford Loss.

Deponent could not afford to lose the amount of money that he was fleeing out of in said places, and so told the solicitor general, and urged him to take the necessary legal steps to break up the places and assist him in recovering the sums of money that he had lost in said places. This Mr. Boykin refused to do. After three or four different efforts that deponent made to get Mr. Boykin to take action, he finally referred deponent to Philip Welner, Esq., an attorney with offices in the Peters building in the city of Atlanta, and petitioner related his troubles and all the matters concerning his losses to him. Deponent made three or four visits to the office of Mr. Welner, who asked him to come back from time to time, and told him that he was studying the proposition out to determine what was the best step to be taken in the matter. After three or four trips to Mr. Welner, Mr. Welner referred deponent to J. O. Ewing, an attorney-at-law, with offices in the Fourth National Bank building, at that time deponent was given a card of introduction to Mr. Ewing.

Told to Call Later.

After relating the facts and circumstances to Mr. Ewing, deponent was told by Mr. Ewing to return and see him in a few days, or to leave his telephone number by which he could be called, and he would be called in a few days, the said Ewing stating that he wanted to take the matter up with the solicitor general, and would communicate with him again and undertake to get his money back for him.

A few days later, deponent was going downtown to the Fourth National bank, when he saw Floyd Woodward on the street, and Woodward asked him to meet him back at Nunnally's, on Peachtree street, opposite the Piedmont hotel.

Deponent met the said Woodward at this point and was asked by Woodward if he, deponent, was afraid to go down to the Sans Souci hotel with him and talk matters over.

Deponent replied that he was not, and thereupon accompanied Woodward to the Sans Souci hotel. When they arrived at the Sans Souci hotel, said Woodward told deponent he knew what the deponent had done and the complaints he had made, and that he did not desire to leave a man down and out and flat on his back, and that he desired to arrange to refund to deponent all of his losses, telling deponent at the same time, however, that before he could do so it would be necessary to see Ewing and get Ewing to draw the necessary papers dealing with the refunding of the money. The said Woodward also knew that deponent had had heavy losses at Marks' place, on Houston street, and asked him what "Shot was going to do about it?" Deponent replied that he had not seen Shot up to that time—referring to said Marks—and did not know what he would do about it.

Deponent saw Ewing and told him what Woodward had said, and thereupon said Ewing advised deponent that Shot Marks had desired to see him, and asked him if he was afraid to go to Shot Marks' place. To this deponent replied that he was not, and thereupon he went around to Shot Marks' place, at 24 Houston street, and saw Marks.

Promised to Pay.

Marks told him that he was going to refund him $2,000. Deponent insisted that Marks refund to him the entire amount of his losses, amounting about $3,000, and after considerable discussion, statements that the house had lost considerable amounts of money, and so forth, said Marks finally agreed that he would refund the sum of $2,000 to the deponent. He said, however, as Woodward had formerly stated, that it was necessary to get his lawyers Ewing, to fix up the papers. Said Marks told deponent to tell Ewing to come around to see him, which deponent did.

When deponent went back and reported to Ewing what Marks had said, Ewing told deponent all right, it would take him a couple of days to get the papers fixed up, and at the end of that time he would call him up and they would go together to the McBride-Woodward place, at the Sans Souci hotel, and the Marks place, at 24 Houston street, and get the money. Deponent met the said J. O. Ewing on the street, on Peachtree street, about the Candier building, and Ewing told him he had finished preparing the papers and arranged a meeting with him at the Sans Souci hotel at 11:30 the same day.

At 11:30 deponent went to the Sans Souci hotel to meet Ewing, and found he had not put in an appearance. He found Woodward and McBride and some lady here and was invited by them to go inside into Woodward's room, which deponent did. Woodward told deponent that they could not give him the $2,000, but that they had not put in an appearance. He found Woodward and McBride and some lady here and was invited by them to go inside into Woodward's room, which deponent did. Woodward told deponent that they could not give him the $2,000, but that they had not put in an appearance.

When Ewing arrived, deponent took him into the hall and talked to him privately, telling him what Woodward had said about the amount of money that he was willing to pay him back, and that same would not be but $500, and told him that would not be satisfactory; whereupon Ewing advised deponent to sign the $2,000 in settlement, and told him that that was all he could get and that that was better than nothing, telling him what Woodward had said about the amount of money that he was willing to pay him back, and that same would not be but $500, and told him that would not be satisfactory; whereupon Ewing advised deponent to sign the $2,000 in settlement, and told him that that was all he could get and that that was better than nothing.

At the bottom of said letter there was a sum of receipt, which deponent was asked to sign, acknowledging receipt of the sum of $500 in settlement of his claim against Woodward and McBride.

Deponent signed the letter and receipt and delivered the same to Floyd Woodward, deponent was paid the sum of $500, and from there he and the said Ewing went to Shot Marks' place, at 24 Houston street, where Marks told him he would only pay him the sum of $500 instead of the $2,000 that he had previously promised to pay.

Ewing advised deponent to accept it, and having previously been advised by the solicitor general to accept the $500 from McBride and Woodward, with the statement that that was all he could get, he accepted the $500 from Marks and signed a receipt for the same and delivered said receipt to Shot Marks.

These matters occurred along the latter part of March or about the first of April, 1920. At that time deponent was operating a drug store at No. 233 Forrest avenue, but his losses had been so heavy he was practically forced out of business at that time, and later on, in the month of May, 1920, he was forced to go into bankruptcy by reason of the losses he had sustained by being fleeced in the gambling houses as herein described. In addition to the $500 paid to deponent, $50 was paid by McBride and Woodward, with the statement that that was all he could get, he accepted the $500 from Marks and signed a receipt for the same and delivered said receipt to Shot Marks.

Deponent advised deponent to accept it, and having previously been advised by the solicitor general to accept the $500 from McBride and Woodward, with the statement that that was all he could get, he accepted the $500 from Marks and signed a receipt for the same and delivered said receipt to Shot Marks.

company and other past due bills and checks outstanding, etc.

Deponent after going into bankruptcy, procured employment with Callender Drug company, at the corner of Peachtree and Tenth streets, in the city of Atlanta, where he remained until the 16th of June, when his father died at Winder. He thereupon went to Winder, Ga., where he has lived since and will live.

No Action Yet Taken On Appeal for Bond In Thad Pirkle Case

No appeal for the release on bond of Thad Pirkle, held in the DeKalb county jail in Decatur on a murder charge, after a jury disagreed last week in his first trial for killing Mary Francis and Madge Guinn.

with his automobile on New Year's eve, had been filed in Decatur at a late hour Tuesday night. W. Paul Carpenter, his attorney, however, has already mailed a petition to Judge John B. Hutcheson.

It is expected that Judge Hutcheson will sign the petition, calling on Solicitor J. A. Brand to show cause at a hearing, probably to be held this week, why Pirkle should not be admitted to bail. The trial of the defendant last week attracted wide interest, as it lasted four days, the jury failing to agree after 24 hours' deliberation. It was indicated that the jury stood eight in favor of a murder verdict, with a petition for clemency, and four in favor of a verdict of involuntary manslaughter. Another trial will be held April 18.

Los Angeles thieves recently fired up a steam roller and drove it away. When the police found it there was nothing left of the 8 1/2-ton machine but the big main roller.

PAR COLLECTIONS SUBJECT OF BRIEF

Country Banks of Georgia
Appeal to Supreme Court
Against Alleged "Force"
Campaign.

Washington, March 22.—A campaign deliberately planned to force out of business any bank not complying with the "par collection order" was charged against officials of the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta in a brief filed today in the supreme court by a number of country banks of Georgia.

The banks appealed from court decisions upholding the authority of the federal reserve board to insist upon the remittance of depositors' checks at par.

"One of the embarrassing, annoying and expensive expedients to which the defendants intend to resort," the brief charged, "is to accumulate checks drawn on country banks in the state of Georgia until the aggregate is a large amount, and then sending a special messenger to the bank on which the checks are drawn, demand payment in currency. Such a course would inevitably drive a small bank out of business."

In addition, the appearance in a small town of a strange person, and his subsequent withdrawal, under the eyes of the curious crowd, of large sums of currency, would, in all probability, result in an immediate run on the said bank that would promptly put it out of business."

Another method alleged to be planned by the federal reserve officials is the transmission of checks to the local postmaster for collection. Adoption of these methods of coercion, the brief declared to be tyrannical and "a prostitution of the functions of a great institution."

NEGRO IS KILLED AS POSSE RAIDS ARMORED HOUSE

Forrest City, Ark., March 22.—One negro was killed, a posseman was slightly wounded, sixteen negroes were arrested and a still and several jugs of "moonshine" liquor were seized by a sheriff's posse which late yesterday exchanged shots with the negroes who were found barricaded in a house at Kinzy, Ark., near here.

The posse was organized to rout the negroes after two white men had been fired on while passing in the roadway near the house.

More than a score of guns and pistols were found in the house occupied by the negroes.

Two Dry Agents Killed.
El Paso, Tex., March 22.—S. F. Beckett and Arch Wood, federal prohibition agents, were shot to death early today while searching for liquor on a ranch owned by Neil T. Shearman, near this city.

BOYKIN TO SPEAK TO LABOR TONIGHT

Further Revelations Regarding Workings of Bunco Ring in Atlanta
Will Be Presented.

Further revelations regarding the bunco ring will be made tonight by Solicitor-General John A. Boykin, in a public address at the Atlanta Labor Temple at 7:30 o'clock. He will speak as the guest of the Atlanta Federation of Trades.

Solicitor Boykin said emphatically that he was only starting in his disclosures, and that more startling ones than those already made by him could be expected. It is anticipated that his meeting tonight will be the occasion for further charges.

While the audience will probably consist largely of labor men, the public is invited to attend. Walter C. Caraway, president of the Atlanta central labor body, will introduce Mr. Boykin.

Shortly after Mr. Boykin made his sensational address to the chamber of commerce forum meeting, Mr. Caraway asked him to appear before the delegates of the Atlanta Federation of Trades and tell the story of Atlanta's gambling ring to the members of the organized labor movement.

Letter From Caraway.
The letter asking him to appear before the federation of trades declared that the members of the various labor bodies in Atlanta are more vitally concerned in the work being done by the solicitor, perhaps, than any other element of society. President Caraway wishes, according to his letter, to have the organized labor people understand just what the situation is, and declared his belief that when they fully understand the work he is doing the union people of the city will co-operate with the court official.

The solicitor is expected to amplify the many sensational things he has told the chamber of commerce, to the women of the city, and through the press of Atlanta.

This address will be delivered at the regular bi-monthly meeting of the Atlanta Federation of Trades, and it is considered likely that some official action will be taken upon the matter.

The solicitor will speak Thursday afternoon, at 12:30 o'clock, at the weekly luncheon of the Atlanta Advertising club, in the breakfast room of the Kimball house, as the invited guest of the club. The club, according to Charles V. Hohenstein, secretary and treasurer, invited him to speak because it desires to do its share in maintaining the reputation of Atlanta among outside cities, and feels called on to hear his charges. It takes no political interest in the controversy, he explained, but is acting in behalf of law, order and decency.

ED. OXFORD RETURNS FROM STAY IN CUBA

Former Tailoring Merchant
Talks Interestingly of Conditions on the Island.

After nearly two years spent in Havana, Cuba, where he was engaged in export business, Edward B. Oxford, for many years connected with the tailoring and clothing business of this city, is expected to return to Atlanta, and is again identified with his old line, having joined the Allen-Chapman company, on Whitehall street.

Mr. Oxford recites some exciting experiences during his two years' stay in Cuba, and talks most interestingly of the conditions of affairs in that country.

"The people over there are much wrought up over the coming decision of the supreme court of Cuba as to who is to be their next president," said Mr. Oxford. "The election was held last October, and the ballots are still being held for recount. The feeling between the parties headed respectively by Dr. Zaya and ex-President Gomez, is very tense. On the day of the election I had never witnessed so much excitement in a city. Everybody was on edge, and I think the striking of a match would have started a revolution. There are about 25,000 Americans over here, and you can bet they remained in pretty close.

"The financial situation in Cuba is very much at sea. The moratorium declared some time ago is still in effect, and it is impossible to get hold of money. Banks and other institutions are not paying out any. President Menocal, who is now acting over his time, cannot get a session of the senators and congressmen because they lean to one side or the other of the contestants for rulership, and it looks like they are afraid to meet and show their hands. Major Enos Crowder is over there now trying to straighten out some matters, and our government has sent a number of financial experts, but it doesn't look like anything will be done until the presidency is settled.

"When the big drop in sugar came last year and the runs on the banks occurred, there was much rioting in the streets. Things will continue to be chaotic until Cuba's financial troubles are ended. This condition is keeping thousands of tourists from Cuba.

Mr. Oxford will be pleased to see his former patrons and friends at the Allen-Chapman company, where he can take care of their wants in a modern tailoring shop, or from a complete stock of Hart-Schaffner & Marx clothes, or an equally large stock of style-plus clothes.

MAN IS KILLED IN DINING ROOM OF FLORIDA HOTEL

St. Augustine, Fla., March 22.—The authorities today still were without a clue as to the identity of the slayer of C. W. Powell, registered from Waco, Texas, who was shot to death in the dining room of a local hotel just before midnight last night.

Four 38-caliber bullets entered Powell's back, one of them penetrating the heart. Several persons are believed to have participated in the killing as it was said the shots were fired too rapidly for one man. Approximately twenty persons were in the dining room at the time, according to a negro waiter, but all fled immediately. Three citizens who were passing the hotel told the police they saw five men run from the front entrance after the shooting. The inquest will be held late today.

Powell is said to have formerly owned a string of race horses in Jacksonville when racing was permitted in Florida.

GENERAL WOOD TO LEAVE ARMY AFTER RETURN

Washington, March 22.—Major General Leonard Wood will retire from active service in the army to become the head of Pennsylvania university after he returns from the Philippines, it was learned today at the war department.

THOMAS TO ASK HABEAS CORPUS

Tragedy Charged by His
Attorney to Same Order
Responsible for Death of Cecil Hotel Porter.

With the grand jury falling Tuesday to consider the case of J. C. Thomas, who is held in connection with the killing of Fred G. Thompson in the woods near Lakewood park the night of March 11, J. H. Leavitt, counsel for the defendant, announced last night that he would file a writ of habeas corpus today in an effort to free his client, while Solicitor John A. Boykin declared the state will oppose such a move.

The case was scheduled to be considered by the grand jury Tuesday, but on account of other business was delayed, and will be brought up Friday for attention. Thomas has been held in the Fulton county cower on a charge of murder since he admitted slaying Thompson to death, claiming the victim attacked him.

Linked With Cecil Case.
In discussing the latest developments in the case, Attorney Leavitt stated that he had obtained evidence which may lead to the disclosure that a negro porter of the Cecil hotel, who was mysteriously slain last fall, was a victim of a secret order. The bell boy disappeared one night in the company of three men, who said they were officers. The next morning his body was found on Brown's Mill road.

The only difference in the two cases, said Mr. Leavitt, was that Thomas turned the tables on his "committee," while the negro was killed by the other.

Another development in the case Tuesday was the publication of a letter received from the "Eyes of the Unknown" by an Atlanta man. The letter was written on the same typewriter identical to the one used in writing the letters received by Thomas. The letter, in part, follows:

Letter Sent Atlanta.
"Now there is a body of more than a thousand real white men in Atlanta who are watching just such cases as this and handling such cases in more ways than one."

The letter then warned him to apologize to the young lady. Unless he did apologize, said the letter:

"We are going to give you the medicine which we think you deserve. And if you intend to stay in Atlanta or around here this will have to be done. And furthermore, if we ever hear of any more remarks such as this coming from you, may God help you, for we won't."

The letter concluded as follows: "The language and punctuation being identical in many respects with the letters received by Thomas."

"Don't think this is a bluff, for it is not. We mean business and if you think we don't, just fail to carry out your instructions." As I said before, there is over a thousand men in this town and we are very easily keeping up with your movements and remarks. I hope that the next report we get about you will be favorable. If not then we will have to take action.

"EYES OF THE UNKNOWN."

The letter was written regarding an alleged insult to a certain young lady with whom the man was acquainted. He declares he is ready to go before the grand jury with his evidence.

Kuobroozuff and Randin gave their addresses as the Seamen's Mission on South street, but there it was said members of the staff, who handled 500 seamen a day, did not remember them.

FLYNN INVESTIGATING BOMB CONNECTION.

Washington, March 22.—Investigation of the five men landed in chains today at New Orleans from the freighter Rushville has as yet failed to uncover any evidence connecting them with the New York bomb explosion last September, it was stated tonight by William J.

Flynn, chief of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice. Mr. Flynn added, however, that the investigation was being continued.

The men are charged specifically with mutiny on the high seas, Mr. Flynn explained, adding that they would be tried in the federal court of New York.

Other officials of the bureau after receipt of reports from New Orleans also expressed the opinion that mutiny was the cause of the men's arrest.

The detention of the five men was reported to the department only ten days ago. Mr. Flynn stated, adding that all reports to Washington had made it appear that mutiny was the reason for their being taken into custody. The department, however, it was indicated, was not overlooking any possibility that all or some of the men might have been connected with the bomb explosion.

Shipping board officials said they had received no reports of a mutiny on board the City of Alton, on which the men shipped as seamen. It was explained, however, that such a matter would be handled by the New York office of the board before a final report was made to Washington.

PYROTECHNICS GALORE IN CINCINNATI BLAZE

Cincinnati, March 22.—A series of explosions that shook houses within a radius of two miles and the hurling of skyrockets, bombs and other pyrotechnics over a wide territory, marked a fire which today virtually destroyed the plant of the A. I. Due Fireworks company at Reading, a suburb.

Miss Hallie Poole Gives Luncheon.

Miss Corinne Johnson, a bride-elect, was guest of honor Tuesday at a luncheon at the Capital City Club, given by Miss Hallie Poole. The luncheon was served in the room on the first floor of the club. The beautifully appointed table had as the central decoration a large wicker basket filled with pink carnations and sweet peas. A corner of violets with dainty card attached marked the place of each guest.

Run-down—Blood Impoverished

Richmond, Va.—When I was a girl I became all run-down, my blood was impoverished and my complexion became yellow. I also suffered from indigestion and constipation. I was extremely nervous and as miserable as one could be when Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery was recommended to me. I took about four bottles and some of the Pleasant Pellets with it. After taking these medicines I was in better health and felt better than I had for several years. —MRS. C. N. OLIVER, 908 N. 27th St. All druggists sell this discovery, liquid or tablets.—(adv.)

He attended the conference in New York of University of Pennsylvania Associated Alumni clubs of the World.

Saturday Easter Egg Hunt Features Twins and Triplets

Never before in Atlanta's history has there been an opportunity to attend a party where so many twins and triplets will be honor guests, as the Easter egg hunt which is given by the home economics department of the Atlanta Woman's club, on the clubhouse grounds, Saturday afternoon, March 26. If there is anything more fascinating than one baby, it is two babies, and that is the reason why twins and even more rare triplets attract unbounded admiration and interest.

When Atlanta's youngest set gathers on the beautiful lawn of the Woman's club Saturday, the grand march of the twins and triplets will form a unique event. Each twin and triplet will be given a top ball, and all will be principals in a moving picture taken by Atlanta's own Carl Rountree. It is hoped that all twins and triplets in the city will feel that they have a special invitation and, if convenient, they are asked to notify Mrs. Ernest Covington, Hemlock 4037, who is chairman for this event. The following have already bought their tickets, and are coming to the party: Dameron and Billy Black, children of Mr. and Mrs. Dameron; Margaret and Mary Sage, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Sage; Duncan and Stiles Mellichamp, sons of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mellichamp; Francis and Silvestro, grandsons of Dr. F. H. Peck; Marion and Lucius Smith, children of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Smith; Martha and Richard De Gollan, children of F. E. De Gollan; A. R. and Eugene Padgett, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Padgett; and last, but by no means least, Atlanta's pride, the famous West End triplets, age 11 years, Mary, Marion, and Mason Morris, children of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Morris.

Among the many little children to be entertained by their friends Saturday will be the three little Masters Richardson, and little Miss Brown, who will be the guests of their grandmother, Mrs. Alonso Richardson; Carlton McKinney, little son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. McKinney, will be host to several friends, as will also Dodge Menter, son of Mrs. M. S. Menter.

Ruth Dabney Smith will have as her guests Carolyn Berry and the De Gollan twins, Martha and Richard. Others in a party together will be Dorothy Davis, Jean Pentacost, Ruth McCurry, Jane and Ann Partillo.

More and more prizes are being volunteered by interested friends since the Atlanta Woman's club policy is against soliciting from merchants. Everybody is urged to contribute a prize while they last, in order to have a chance at the prize. For prizes, and the prize game for boys.

There are still a few tickets remaining on sale at the Arcade playroom and at the Woman's club, but they are going fast.

Broad Profession Open To Young Southerners

Miss Edith M. Tewksbury, of the national board of the Y. W. C. A., is in Atlanta interviewing young women who are interested in entering the broad field of the National Young Women's Christian association and making of the work a profession. Tuesday, Miss Tewksbury spent the afternoon at Agnes Scott college, where she interviewed twelve young women who are applicants for Y. W. C. A. secretarial positions following their graduation. Wednesday, Miss Tewksbury will spend at "Y" headquarters, Peachtree Arcade, where she will spend the day again interviewing applicants. This national leader is director of the extension training division of the secretarial department of the national board of the Y. W. C. A., which has headquarters at 600 Lexington avenue, New York city. In speaking of the broad field that is offered by the Y. W. C. A. to the young woman of education of today, Miss Tewksbury states that the national board is now investigating opportunities in other fields, such as the Y. W. C. A. as a career.

The demand for trained leadership has developed the secretarialship of the association into a distinctly new profession, she states. "The young woman who seeks to become a secretarial is not only expressing in her work a civic expression in the community cannot do better than look into the opportunities afforded by the present program of the Y. W. C. A. Among the fields open are Americanization, educational, industrial and physical training work; open openings are in finance, construction and recreation. Work in foreign countries affords international opportunities. Special training is provided by the New York Training school of the national board, Y. W. C. A., New York. At the conclusion of Miss Tewksbury's visit to the local association, she will go to the Macon "Y."

Dr. Bruce Tidwell to Wed Miss Prey, of Denver

Of much interest to friends in Atlanta, where the groom-to-be is re-located for many years, will be the announcement of the engagement of Miss Mildred Prey, of Denver, Colo., to Dr. Bruce Tidwell, also of Denver.

Miss Prey is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Prey, and is an unusually attractive girl, admired for her vivacity and charm of manner. Dr. Tidwell has many relatives in Atlanta. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Degradenfeld Tidwell, who formerly lived here, and have numerous friends in the announcement of the approaching marriage. He is the grandson of two of the pioneer merchants of Atlanta—the late Captain Reuben Westland Tidwell and the late J. Bruce Smith. He was graduated from the University of Colorado, where he is a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, and during the world war enlisted in the army and was lieutenant in coast artillery at the training camp at Fort Monro, Va.

Both Miss Prey and Dr. Tidwell are very popular among the younger set, and the marriage, a church ceremony, will be a brilliant affair of April 2.

Citizenship Committee To Meet.

Mrs. Rogers Winter calls a special meeting of the citizenship committee of the Atlanta Woman's club on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the club. All women who are interested in citizenship and a form of good government are not only invited, but are urged to attend. Important constructive work is to be developed at this meeting.

MEETINGS

There will be a meeting of the W. P. Slaton Parent-Teacher association in the school auditorium this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Professor Dykes will address the association, and all mothers and teachers are urged to be present.

FOUR MORE DAYS TO BUY SEASON OPERA TICKETS

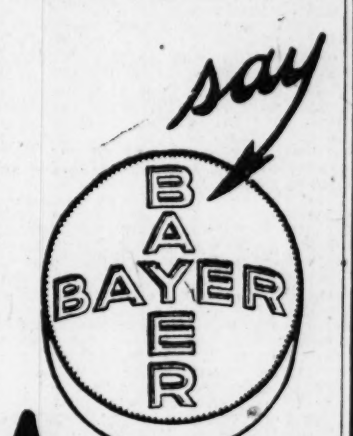

Only four more days remain on which season tickets for the 1921 week of Metropolitan grand opera may be purchased, since the season sale will close at noon Saturday, March 26. After a week's intermission, the single seat sale will open April 4 to continue through the season.

GROWING DEAF WITH HEAD NOISES? TRY THIS

If you are growing hard of hearing and fear Catarrhal Deafness or if you have roaring, rumbling, hissing noises in your ears go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmit (double strength), and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should be open, breathing becomes easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who is threatened with Catarrhal Deafness or who has head noises should give this prescription a trial.—(adv.)

NEURASTHENIA—NERVE STARVATION

A Disease of the Down Hearted—Practical advice on what to do.

Many a man is broken down and discouraged without having any actual disease in his organs and tissues—he has lost his grip, his energy and everything looks dark. He is suffering from the great American disease—Neurasthenia or nerve starvation, due to over-work, worry, continual hurry and nervous strain. The longer this continues the more certain will it end in real disease of his organs, his nerves or his mind. Such a man should live on the simple foods, eat plenty of cooked fruit and green vegetables, sleep nine hours at night if he can, an hour in the afternoon and feed his starving nerves and weak, thin blood, with a good nerve and blood food, like Nuxated Iron. Nuxated Iron contains a product brought to the attention of the French Academy of Medicine by the celebrated Dr. Robin, which represents the principal chemical constituent of active living nerve force; it also contains genuine organic iron in its active, lentils and apples. Nuxated Iron may therefore be said to be a real nerve and blood food since it supplies the principal ingredients demanded by your nerves and blood to give you strength, energy, force and endurance. It often increases the bodily and mental vigor of weak, worn-out, down-hearted, and nervous folks in two weeks' time. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturer if it does not produce perfectly satisfactory results. For sale by all druggists.—(adv.)

Spectacular Italian Opera Presented by Howard Orchestra

A wonderful hour of music was provided yesterday in the opera concert put on by the Howard orchestra with assisting artists. Enrico Lelde directing this, the fourth event in the series under the auspices of the Woman's club.

Boito's "Mefistofele" was the opera treated of, and special interest attached to it, since it is one of the two operas to be presented here by the Metropolitan Opera company in April, which has never been heard in Atlanta. Mrs. W. C. Jarnigan, introducing the story of the opera with a companion of the subject as treated of by Gounod, Berlioz and Boito, and stating its position in the modern evolution of opera, gave a telling synopsis of the book of the opera, reciting with taste and impressive some of the most significant passages.

Mrs. Lelde briefly explained the construction of the score, and then led his splendid orchestra in a performance of excerpts from what he aptly called the imposing and spectacular music, this performance of such character as to give the large audience an immense desire to hear the opera in its entirety.

Edwin Sawtelle played with beautiful effect an arrangement of a part of the "classical" scene. Mrs. Hugh M. Atkins, Luther White sang with taste Paul's lovely solo on his return from the Easter field, and Miss Harriet Small's very pleasing contralto was heard in conjunction with Mrs. Atkins' sweet soprano in the duet of Helen of Troy.

The value of the opera concert was accentuated by the extra feature which Mrs. Lelde now includes as a regular part of each week's concert. Yesterday it was the second movement from Beethoven's fifth symphony, and the orchestra translated the spirit as well as the letter of this moving and beautiful work in a manner that would do credit to any organization devoted entirely to the performance of music of symphony style.

Instruction of College Delegates To Feature S. A. C. W. Meeting

branch, Southern Association of College Women are urgently requested to attend a well-planned meeting to be held in the library of the Girls' High school this afternoon at 3 o'clock, a half hour earlier than the usual time.

Delegates from the S. A. C. W. who will represent Atlanta at the national convention of college women to be held in Washington, the last part of March and the first part of April, will be instructed how to vote concerning the promised amalgamation of the S. A. C. W. with the national body of collegiate alumnae, and also with the international body.

After the business meeting, an interesting play will be given under the auspices of the local club, "When Patty Goes to College," and the play and the which follows, the college women will have as their guests the girls of Girls' High, who are intending to take a college training.

Representatives of more than 5,000 unskilled laborers at a meeting today with officials of the Lehigh Valley Railroad company refused to agree to any reduction in wages or to join in a statement of the question to the labor board. After the meeting, it was announced the company would submit the case to the labor board.

N. C. & ST. L. CONFERENCE FAILS. Nashville, Tenn., March 22.—The conference which has been in progress since the 15th of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway and representatives of the road's unskilled labor over reducing the wages of the latter, terminated today without any agreement being reached. The road's only course now is to appeal to the United States railway labor board.

RUSSIA'S CONDITION IS EXAGGERATED, DECLARES LIPSHITZ. Russia is a safer and more comfortable country than is generally believed, according to B. S. Lipschitz, of 425 Capitol avenue, who returned Sunday from a recent visit to Latvia, a section of the Russian Ukraine. He said that Latvia was in better condition than many other parts of the land.

"There is a good deal of business and production in Latvia," he said. "The provisional government appears stable, and the people are quiet and well behaved. There is little trouble outside of the hard times, the depressed currency being the chief difficulty."

"Laborers are paid from 75 to 100 rubles a day, a ruble being worth about half a cent in our money. For the poorer classes, life is a poor, bare and scanty existence. A pound of butter costs more than a day's pay, and a pair of shoes equates more than half a month's salary. Yet it is possible to travel in reasonable convenience, if you have the money."

He brought home several fine pieces of hand embroidery, including an unusual coat more than 100 years old, heavily embroidered in vivid colors and trimmed with metal. He intends to present it to some museum in this city.

BANDITS HOLD UP PASSENGER TRAIN AND GET $3,000. Muskogee, Okla., March 22.—The Katy railroad's Texas special was held up and passengers robbed 20 miles south of McAlester at 9 o'clock tonight.

Three masked men boarded the train at Denison, Texas, went through three coaches and took $3,000 from passengers, according to travelers reaching here. The bandits are said to have dropped off the train just before it reached McAlester and disappeared in the woods. An effort is being made to trail them.

Scout Troop Number Two Wins Field Meet At Decatur Monday. Troop 2 of Decatur Boy Scouts won the field meet for the second district scouts, held in Decatur on Monday. They will represent their district against winners of other districts in the tournament being conducted by the Atlanta Scout council. Milton A. Candier is scout master of Troop 2, and Tom Visser is his assistant.

Troop 15 of Atlanta holds the record for wall scaling, having accomplished the feat in 20 4-5 seconds. Troop 2 of Decatur did it Monday in 27 seconds, and Troop 12 of the first district scaled the wall in 27 2-5 seconds. The closeness of the records promises hot competition when the troops meet each other some time next month to decide the city-wide championship.

DOUGHNUTS AND CHIPS TO GO ON SALE TODAY. A sale of doughnuts and potato chips, to raise funds for St. Mark's Methodist church, and to demonstrate Maxola oil, will be held today by the women of the congregation, in the show window of the King Hardware store, on Peachtree street. The doughnuts and chips will be fried in the show window and sold at reasonable prices. Mrs. F. C. Boykin and Mrs. John P. Owens are in charge of the sale.

Hughes Admits Being Express Company's Agent

Macon, Ga., March 22.—W. A. Hughes, star witness for the government in the trial of 53 of 64 men indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of conspiring to rob the American Railway Express company of goods in shipment, valued at more than $1,000,000, resumed the witness stand in federal court this morning.

He testified that the alleged robbery syndicate assumed such proportions that he planned to open a store to market goods, which, he said, were being stolen from the American Railway Express company.

Hughes told the court that he made plans to open the store when told by another defendant that there were more than 100 employees of the express and railroad companies who would help him steal goods. When Hughes finished his testimony against the defendants in alphabetical order he testified only two whom he had neglected to mention as persons with whom he said he had transactions over stolen goods.

Hughes admitted on cross-examination that he sold stolen goods to defendants after he had become a special agent for the express company in order to "spot" the men for the company.

The admission came in answer to a question from Attorney Wallace Miller, who took up the cross-examination for the defense when the witness was turned over to him by Assistant United States District Attorney Clem Powers, the witness having completed his testimony as to his alleged transactions with the defendants.

He testified that he sold Captain J. N. Smith harness after he had been arrested and made a special agent and had tried to sell him B. Rodgers' a shotgun and Captain Johnson a fur.

"Superintendent R. H. May asked me to back up my statement about the stealing in the company by selling the men goods they asked me for. He said he would supply me with the articles they wanted if I would get the orders," he declared.

Hughes said there wasn't "any telling" how much express he had stolen from his shipments. He said he didn't think he had stolen "quite as much as $1,000,000 worth," but he refused to estimate the amount.

Jake Abel Gives Larry Averá Terrible Trimming in 10 Rounds; Battling Budd Bests Boorde

Jake Abel returns to the haberdashery as welterweight champion of the south, and he will stay there until Gabriel plays his celebrated carnelian, as far as Larry Averá is concerned. Larry, the son of the late Jake Abel, who was killed last night, and he will clamor for no more such opportunities, unless he is recklessly abandoned as to his bodily welfare.

During the ten rounds of warfare, Abel stopped with his face and body probably every blow known to boxing science. He wasn't knocked out, but his right eye was cut and bleeding. His lips were frothed with a dull foam. There was a tiny stream of blood from his nose. Only his remarkable fine condition, and the fact that he was always strong, prevented him from going out long before the ten rounds arrived.

"Don't get it in your noodle, though, that the scrap was a set-up battle for Abel. Averá was dangerous until the last two rounds, when he was so weakened by punishment that his blows had no effect, and he was so weakened by punishment that his blows had no effect, and he was so weakened by punishment that his blows had no effect."

Larry lacks spirit. Averá's weakness seems to be that he can't get up the combative spirit. He has a good right hand, apparently lacks the spark that differentiates a good ring warrior from a mediocre one. Abel does possess this quality, and it is exactly what won for him last night. Whenever Averá tried to reach in, Jake's face grew contorted in anger, and he would smash away with every intent of stopping his opponent's life-time. And once, when Averá said something reflecting on Jake's nationality, Larry, who was in a fight that kept him from further conversation through the rest of the encounter.

Larry started out like a house afire. He lived up to the advance guard of the fight, and he was in a fight that kept him from further conversation through the rest of the encounter.

BAD HEALTH SAID TO BE THE CAUSE OF DAILEY SUICIDE

J. T. Dailey, of 154 Lawton street, proprietor of the 358 Peters street, committed suicide in his shop about 8 o'clock Tuesday morning by taking two over-doses of carbolic acid, after brooding over business conditions and bad health, it is said.

The acid was purchased at a drug store across the street from the place of business, and was taken by Dailey in a glass of water. He was found by a neighbor who called at the store. He explained that he wanted to use the acid for a tincture wash for a dog. Returning to his shop, he drank the acid, which resulted in his death.

Mr. Dailey is survived by one son, James Dailey; his mother, Mrs. M. W. Dailey; three sisters, Mrs. R. W. Dailey, Mrs. L. W. Dailey, and Miss Sophie Dailey, and four brothers, J. O., R. H., H. M., and E. L. Dailey.

WOMAN AND CHILD LOSE BRAVE FIGHT FOR NURSE'S LIFE

Minnie Guber, a negro nurse in the family of J. R. Trammel, of 40 West North street, died of a heart attack Monday night in Grady hospital, in spite of heroic efforts to extinguish her blazing life. She had been fighting for her life for several days, and had been in the hospital for a week.

Mr. Trammel is survived by one son, James Trammel, 12 years old, and one daughter, Mary Trammel, 10 years old, who were with her at the time of her death.

Little Mary Trammel was burned in the right arm and leg when she was playing with a kerosene lamp. She was in bed with the nurse, and she was burned when she was playing with the lamp.

"PUTTING THE NEXT ONE OVER"

I PLUGGED FOR an old-timer who once waded around the old loop under the name of Nine-Point Goodall. He used to shave with a red hot wire.

HE WAS TRIMMING Gink Fowler like a Christmas tree when Gink's gang sprang a trapdoor in the ring and allowed my protégé to fall into a concrete mixer hidden there for no good purpose.

Yours for less was SLIM COOLAHAND, Chicago.

P. S.—I FORGOT to mention how Nine-Point got his name. He was a mormon. He used to loosen up the juice to nine points. And then throw the handle away.

MR. COOLAHAND is wrong about that trapdoor. They did have a trap in the Roughtown ring. But only for tough cases. As a matter of fact, Nine-Point never got within extrajudicial distance of the Roughtown champion. Nine-Point started out like an early worm trying to catch the Roughtown champion. He was a mormon, and he was a mormon.

AERO CLUB ISSUES REVISED RULES FOR GREAT AIR EVENT

New York, March 22.—Revised rules for the International Air Races to be held at Selfridge field, Mount Clemens, Mich., on September 8, 9 and 10, will include classes for all kinds of planes, the Aero Club of America announced today. There will be four races.

Cash prizes aggregating $10,000 will be awarded. The principal event will be a 24-hour race for high-speed planes capable of 140 miles an hour. It will be four laps around a closed course of 40 miles. The contest was first held last Thanksgiving at Mitchell field, Long Island.

The other races are for commercial planes, of large capacity, capable of 75 miles for lighter capacity planes, capable of 50 miles, and for observation planes.

STETSON FORFEITS GAME TO Y. W. C. A.

In the roughest game ever played by girls' rules in basketball on an Atlanta court, the Stetson coach forfeited the game between the team of Deland, Fla., and the Y. W. C. A. that was played on the "Y" night, Peaches Arcade, Tuesday night. The score stood 20 to 14, in favor of the Y. W. C. A. when Carl Ferri, Stetson coach, discovered that his team had no more players to put into the game, as he had used his two substitutes.

The seven pitchers who are trying to make the Atlanta team are two southpaws are along, Johnny Suggs and Wilson, a semi-professional pitcher, and a few others. Suggs never was in such good condition, and there is no reason why Atlanta fans should be worried over the situation. The pitcher who is the best is Charlie Frank, who is a member of the Atlanta team.

EMORY EXPLOSION KILLS SEVEN

Fourteen professors and Boys are Hurt While at Work in Pharmacology Laboratory.

Students and instructors were injured and approximately 10 killed when an explosion occurred at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning in the pharmacology laboratory of Emory university, wrecking the department.

One student was thrown out of a window and another thrown against a wall. The explosion was caused by the use of dynamite. The injured, all of whom will recover, are:

Reynolds Hears Flag Flapping Crackers Already See Pennant

On Board Cracker Special, March 23.—New Orleans is some hours in the rear, and we must be hearing Lake Charles, where the Crackers will play Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics Wednesday afternoon in the second game of the exhibition schedule. The Milwaukee Brewers were very nicely disposed of Sunday night, and the Crackers believe that fortune will continue to smile on them. Bobby Stowe will play in the first game, and will in all probability play in all the games, as Bobby has been training with the Port Worth club and is in splendid condition.

Look at This Great Infield.

From New Orleans, Memphis and Birmingham come dispatches telling of strong infields. Glancing at the Crackers' roster, one is forced to admit that the inner works of those who play in the field are not to be feared. The Crackers have a great infield. The Crackers have a great infield. The Crackers have a great infield.

Bobby Gilks Likes Shortstop Stowe.

Bobby Gilks was a visitor at Crackers headquarters Monday and Tuesday, and declared that the Crackers had a great shortstop. Bobby Gilks was a visitor at Crackers headquarters Monday and Tuesday, and declared that the Crackers had a great shortstop.

Harding to Attend Unveiling of Statue in New York City

Washington, March 22.—President Harding today accepted an invitation to attend ceremonies to be held April 19 at New York in connection with the unveiling of a statue to Simon Bolivar, the Venezuelan patriot. Acceptance of the invitation, which will take Mr. Harding out of Washington for the first time since his inauguration and to New York for the first time since before his nomination for the presidency last June, was made known to the white house after Dr. Santos A. Rodriguez, president of the American Republics, had called at the executive offices.

SPALDING LEAGUE TO HOLD FINAL MEETING

Final plans for the Spalding league will be completed tonight, when the league meets at S. G. Inf. School, Camp Benning, 11 o'clock. The schedule for the league will be adopted along with the league's constitution.

AMATEUR FEDERATION TO MEET TONIGHT

Tonight at 8 o'clock, at the Y. M. C. A., the Amateur Baseball federation will be reorganized. The federation of last season boasted of some forty clubs, and a larger number is expected to enroll this year.

TWO APPOINTMENTS MADE BY PRESIDENT

Washington, March 22.—Dwight Davis, of St. Louis, was given a recess appointment by President Harding today as a director of the War Relocation Authority. John J. Esch, former representative from Missouri, was given a recess appointment as a member of the interstate commerce commission.

Penn's Basketball Victory Team Shows Offense Power

New York, March 22.—Penn., winning the intercollegiate basketball championship, not only added to her prestige in this department of athletics, but likewise demonstrated that she was not purely a defensive team. In other words, Penn went out from the start at Danvers, to show that it had an attack as well as a defense, and proved it conclusively.

Yale Baseball.

Yale's baseball team got out on the diamond last week and had some warming up, preparatory to its southern trip. One thing that is interesting is the baseball people at New Haven is that this year—for the first time—the varsity nine will meet the University of Pittsburgh, and there will be a chance to try conclusions. Barrett, captain of the Yale team, is a good pitcher, and should give the Yale batsmen some trouble. If anything happens to him, Bloom will probably take up the job. Dick Harley is coaching the Pittsburgh nine, and would like to see the Yale team.

CONGRESS CALLED MONSTER WARSHIP FOR U. S. LAUNCHED

Camden, N. J., March 22.—The super-dreadnaught Colorado, the largest and most powerful battleship ever built on the Delaware river, was launched at the New York Shipbuilding corporation yard here at 12:42 p. m. today. The great fighting machine was sponsored by Mrs. Ruth Nicholson Melville, of Denver, daughter of United States Senator Samuel D. Nicholson, of Colorado. Theodore Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, and Senator Nicholson stood by the sponsor when she smashed the bottle of mineral water from Colorado against the prow of the giant hull as it began to recede into the Delaware river. The ship will have a displacement of 33,000 tons. With the Maryland, already launched at Newport News, Va., the Colorado, and the Washington and the West Virginia, all authorized in 1916, will form the most powerful battle line in the American navy. The main armament will consist of eight 16-inch guns, and the secondary battery will have fourteen 5-inch rapid-fire guns. The Colorado will have an overall length of 624 feet. The ship will be launched on a barge and will have 25,000-horsepower.
